

My name is Molly Stinson and I am the 2009 Interstate Queen. I am the 18 year old daughter of Tim and Nancy Stinson. I am currently a student at the University of Idaho in Moscow, Idaho where I am study Business Marketing and a proud sorority sister of Alpha Phi. This year I will be competing on the college rodeo, something I've dreamed of my entire life! In my free time I enjoy hanging out with my friends, reading a good book, making smores by the campfire, and riding my horses!

Over the course of this next year I will have the pleasure of riding two spectacular horses. First, is the horse I was crowned queen on, Flo. Flo is a dear friend's horse, Betty Holmlund. Betty is such incredible women whom I'm forever grateful to of met and remain friends with for a long time to come. I will also be riding my new horse this year, Italy. Italy is a beautiful 6 year old quarter horse that I have slowly begun on the barrel pattern and I am looking forward to introducing her to the world of Interstate this year.

As my new reign as queen begins I am so excited for what the future holds. I hope to be a positive role model for younger members, accomplish new ideas given and shared, and spread the word of Interstate to the public. Thinking back on my experience as princess I remember meeting plenty of new faces, gaining many new friends, and enjoying every minute of it; I can only hope that my time as queen will be just as rewarding.

Thank you to all of the Interstate members for your outstanding support and everlasting memories. I'm looking forward to yet another outstanding year of hard work, dedication, memories, and competition.
